

DAY 2

Create your Comic Book!

Today you will create your comic book! Use your plan and ideas from yesterday to help you. Take each part of the story in turn and think carefully about the picture you want to draw in each box. There are some comic book templates saved below.

You can include speech bubbles and character speech or use some of the comic book word art we looked at last week.

If there is space, you could write sentences in each box about what is happening. If there isn't much room, you could write your sentences on a different piece of paper and then use this to retell your comic book to someone in your family.
